

Verification of Legal Origin (VLO) Agreement for PT. ScanCom Indonesia

ScanCom press release August, 2010

Meets Rainforest Alliance standards for Verified Legal Origin

ScanCom International A/S, an industrial leader in Social and Environmental accountability can add yet another great achievement to their long record of achievements in this field. An agreement was reached and signed in August 2010 between the Rainforest Alliance and PT ScanCom Indonesia on Verification of Legal Origin (VLO) something we have been working on for years and with consultants and the auditing body Smart Wood. The team in PT ScanCom Indonesia and ScanCom International A/S have worked on the VLO for a long time to create the right base foundation that fits the ScanCom International A/S policy for Social and Environmental Accountability as well as the supply chain in PT ScanCom Indonesia. We take as a company great pride in our achievements and work with the different companies in the group and the local governments and Authorities to set out policies and strategies that are achievable under local laws and standards. We worked for years with the possibilities, legislation and the authorities in Indonesia and in the last 16 months made very big progress in the production facilities and put in place verification systems and COC which covers the total supply chain from the forest, through the log yards, manufacturing, packing and logistics. This is a great start and fantastic achievement so far and we will continue our efforts to enlarge the scope of the VLO and together with our business partners and auditors make the system better. We were again recognized as a company by local environmental NGO's and International auditing bodies and NGO's for our initiatives to improve the supply chain and deliver to different export markets around the world with great products, beautiful design and innovation, being produced to the latest International required standards. We want to thank the team in PT ScanCom Indonesia for this great achievement, which we are very proud of as a company!
